

Licensing policy and information for Steel RunAs version 1.x

Thank you for purchasing the license of Steel RunAs. Your purchase entitles you to install and use the main application used for creating the RunAs executables.

Single Computer version license

This license is valid for the installation of the main application in one computer and can be used to create RunAs executables that can be executed only in that computer where the application itself is installed. This mode of license is not suitable for companies and is more apt for home users.

Company License (10 computers)

This mode of license entitles the buyer to install the main application in one computer and create RunAs executables that can be run in as many as 10 computers only.

Executing this RunAs executable in more than 10 computers is a violation of the licensing norms and policy.

Company License (50 computers)

This mode of license entitles the buyer to install the main application in one computer and create RunAs executables that can be run in as many as 50 computers only.

Executing this RunAs executable in more than 50 computers is a violation of the licensing norms and policy.

Company License (100 computers)

This mode of license entitles the buyer to install the main application in one computer and create RunAs executables that can be run in as many as 100 computers only.

Executing this RunAs executable in more than 100 computers is a violation of the licensing norms and policy.

Company License (250 computers)

This mode of license entitles the buyer to install the main application in one computer and create RunAs executables that can be run in as many as 250 computers only.

Executing this RunAs executable in more than 250 computers is a violation of the licensing norms and policy.

Company License (500 computers)

This mode of license entitles the buyer to install the main application in one computer and create RunAs executables that can be run in as many as 500 computers only.

Executing this RunAs executable in more than 500 computers is a violation of the licensing norms and policy.

Company License (1000 computers)

This mode of license entitles the buyer to install the main application in one computer and create RunAs executables that can be run in as many as 1000 computers only.

Executing this RunAs executable in more than 1000 computers is a violation of the licensing norms and policy.

Company Unlimited License

If you have purchased the Company unlimited computer license, then the RunAs executables created here can be run in un-limited number of computers.

Your purchase also entitles you for a free product upgrade of one year from the date of purchase and support for un-limited duration.

How to apply the license

For availing the license key we request you to download and install the latest version of Steel RunAs in the designated computer and send us the auto generated request code to sales@steelsonic.com

We will generate the unlock code (serial key) and send it to you within one working day. Please ensure to send the request codes using the same email ID used while making the purchase.

The request code can be viewed and copied by going to the About menu of the main program as shown in the image below.

Shifting/Migrating installation

If there is a requirement of shifting of license to a new installation, please send a mail to sales@steelsonic.com stating the requirement and with the new request code. Include the original license key delivered to you when you purchased the license.

We limit shifting of licenses to two times per purchase/license per year.

The single computer license does not need shifting as the request code is based on the computer name. To shift the license from one computer to another ensure to have the computer name same as the one used while licensing the product for first time.

For any sales or license related query please write to sales@steelsonic.com

For support related query please write to support@steelsonic.com